

26 FEBRUARY 2016

Brian Haratsis, Australian economist, future strategist and author will explore the key opportunities for property in Darwin.

With hands-on involvement in many of Australia's key developments, including the North West of Australia and the Australia 2050 Project, his insights are a must hear for every property owner, investor or manager.

The keynote presentation will be followed by a discussion with local leaders about the challenging year ahead for property in the NT. Can they predict the future? How can you maximise opportunity and minimise risk in this changing market?

This outlook forum gives you direct access to network with those in the know. Enjoy candid insights, ask the hard questions and importantly be guided through the year ahead.
